"Abduction of young girls has been going on in Yonkers for a long time. received several complaints from parents, and in most of them the name of one man was mentioned. I started an investigation, and it was as a esult of the inquiry that Robert Kellock an . Carrie Smith were arrested."

This statement was made to The Evening World to-day by Judge W. J. Kellogg, of the City Court, of Yonkers. The arrest of which he spoke yesterday stirred up a scandal in Yonkers that promises to resemble that of the Boss-

They are understood to have left Yonkers in search of the witness upon whose testimony the entire case against Kellock rests.

The girls involved have admitted that they went to Mount Vernon with Reliock and the Smith woman and that they met other men at the Pelham Hotel, in Mount Vernon.

The missing witness, it is said, can testify that he was paid to induce the two girls to go to Mount Vernon.

The police were watching for him Monday when he mysteriously slipped through their fingers and vanished. The investigation of the case seems to have been "tipped" to him and to others. This witness is reported to have some to Europa. If that be true he will be arrested on arrival.
